Never heard of a VHS. That one of those retro things, like a DVD? How did you even find it?

Rumor was flying around a fan server about an abandoned studio, and I. . . went on a road trip.

I see. So, investigative breaking and entering!

I didn't even think about a tape being odd. Acre's oldest stuff was in the original cobwebs of the internet!

Well look at you being a little toon historian!

Uh, guess so?

Shame I have no idea how to get you back to share your findings!

Yeah, Prince. A real shame.

Oh, PLEASE don't go by Topsy's nickname for me. Call me Evan! What do I have the honor of calling you?

I'm Tomàs, or go by Toma. Hey Evan, never heard of Acres having a frog prince toon at all.

Not a real fan of you talking like we were possessions of that guy, but I forgive ya!

Sorry, Evan.

I haven't considered that you guys are like, conscious of who your creator even was?

Is that weird? OH! Speaking of weird. Man...

Beyond getting sucked into a TV, parts of me have been turning into a wolf?

That's weird, right?
